Privacy & Security

6. Introduction

SCP is committed to ensuring the privacy of any personal information you provide. In particular, we will comply with the Privacy Act 1988. We intend to deal with any personal information you provide via this website in accordance with our Policy on the Management of Personal Information.

In general you can visit the SCP website without telling us who you are. The amount of information that you provide to SCP will depend on the range and number of services that you choose to use. Particular sections of this website may require you to send SCP personal information, including your name and email address.

7. Gathering information

SCP collects the following information from this website:

7.1 Statistical Information

SCP, via its ISP, collects statistical information regarding the use of this website, including your computer's Internet Protocol (IP) address and the date and time of your visit. This information does not identify you individually and is collected to provide SCP with information about the use of this website and to help it maintain and develop the site to provide better information to users.

7.2 Requested Personal Information

We may ask you for personal information if it is necessary to provide information or a service to you or if it is necessary by law to collect that information.

8. Use and disclosure

In general, personal information you provide to this website will not be used or disclosed by SCP for a purpose other than the primary purpose of collection unless:

- you have consented;
 - a secondary purpose is related to the primary purpose of collection and you would reasonably expect SCP to use or disclose the information for that secondary purpose
 - the use or disclosure is otherwise required or permitted by law.
- Information provided by you may appear in aggregate form for the purpose of providing statistical information within SCP or to third parties. This information will not identify you individually.

9. Links from this site

The SCP website may link to other websites and to the World Wide Web generally. These websites may or may not have their own privacy policies and are not subject to this privacy notice.

10. Security

SCP uses industry standard security measures to safeguard the personal information that we hold.

We cannot guarantee the security of information transmitted to us via the Internet, although we use our best endeavours to do so. SCP will not be liable in any way in relation to any breach of security during Internet transmissions of personal information, including any unintended loss, misuse or disclosure of that information.
